PHILADELPHIA is raising one hundred thousand dollars, as a gift to the widow and children of the lamented General Meade. That is very commendable, but then there have been a great many men who have done more for the material advancement of Philadelphia than perhaps Gen. Meade did, whose widows and children are not thus remembered. "Why this

THE Philadelphia Press is a convert minority representation. It says:

"Cumulative voting, we are glad to say, is a success in Illinois. All the papers published in that State speak favorably of the self exclusively to the practice of his proplan, and one which we find quoted in the Springfield Republican as an original oppo-nent of this equitable principle says: It has vindicated every claim of superior mer-it asserted by its promoters; it has con-Factors and General Commission Merchants SPERRY & CO. founded those who thought to gain fraudulent advantages by it; it has challenged the approval of both doubters and opponents!" Mr. Buckalew is now a member of the convention, and will, we hope, enforce this ides he made the race as a Democrat, suppor!on the organic law of the Commonwealth."

THE trial of Lucien N. Fewell for shooting James F. Clark, a few weeks ago, while the latter was confined in jail at Brentville, Va., for abducting Fewell's sister-Clark being a married man at the time-has resulted in his acquital. Fewell entered the jail and coolly and deliberately shot Clark as one would shoot a mad dog, and it took the jury but five minutes to make up their verdict of not guilty. Juries now a days appear to be almost unanimous in imagining that a murder trial is a mere thing of sentiment. A prettily conceived story of affection for a sister, a vivid description of a hearth desolated by a wife's "betrayal," or a mournful tale of a fiend who has robbed a tender soul of his paramour-any one of these, or of a thousand of their ramifications, is enough to make the modern jury melt into tears over the woes of men whose only offense is nothing more than taking the lives of others. It might as well be enacted in all the States of the Union that whenever a murder is committed with "a woman in it," the guilty party is to be considered above the reach of the law that extends to other murders, for the guilty in such cases can never be convinced.

A VICTIM OF MISPLACED CONFI-

DENCE. At a grand Republican demonstration at Hartford, Conn., recently, speeches were made by Gov. Jewell and Gen. Hawley, both of whom were serenaded. After alluding to some of the issues settled by the car vass, Gen. Hawley closed as follows:

"Now, if the Republican party would faithfully serve a confiding nation and retain its power, it must conduct its relations with foreign nations upon the highest princliect revenue carefully, and disburne it honestly; keep expenditures down to the lowest honorable limit; perfect the for Congress, who is defeated by Luttrell. backing system; return to specie payment; furnish uniform and staple currency; protect American citizens, however lumble, at home, as well as abroad; observe well the limits between state and national authority; deal wisely, firmly, kindly and justly with the Indians; honor purhy of the ballot-box; scourge bad men out of office and out of the councils of the party; encourage the honest efforts of labor to es ablish better relations with capital; and pe fect reform of the civil service. An unsophisticated Grant man is reported to have exclaimed, after hearing this speech of Gen. Hawley, "Had I known that our party required so much improving to make it what it should be, before election, I should have voted the Liberal ticket. I did not believe it when told, before I voted, that it was because these reforms were n eded, the Liberals and Democrats had united in the hope of bringing them about!" Ales! the poor, deluded victim of the players of the political confidence game had read only Republican newspapers, and like thousands of others, was sold.

He was a member of the lower house of the last General Assembly, and was admired by the members. In that body he was unusually attentive to business, prompt in every duty, and showed 100 himself well worthy the confidence the people of his county had placed in him. He became a candidate in the late canvass at the urgent solicitation of this many friends, and so general was the desire for his re-election that he had no opposition until within a few days of the election, a Rebublican candidate was announced. The Philadelphia Age prints a note which Mr. Trousdale is a thorough Democrat, having learned his early lessons from his illustrious father. In his speeches in the late canvass, he devoted himself exclusively to matters of State policy, and endeavored standing your long acquaintance with me, to awaken in the people a more active interest in the material progress of this and the sister States of the South, and discussed though I am not without my own private those topics only that relate to their intelviews on public questions, I have never | lectual elevation and the development of given any utterance to them in public, or | their varied resources of wealth and prosperity. The opposition to State aid, or the loan or grant of the public means or credit to private enterprises, which is so marked a feature in the West, has hardened on the Pacific lope into a hostility which loses no opportunity of manifesting itself through the balot-box. Despite all the glittering talk about developing resources, opening up new channels of trade, making the wilderness to blossom like the rose, and so on and so on, says the New York World, it is felt that State ald amounts simply to this, that the community shall give or loan its means or credit to A, B, and C, to enable the trio to build a railread which, when built, is their own private property, for the use whereof the community is to pay as much as if it had not contributed to its constructien. In other words, the State gives the company the road, and then the company charges the State for its use.

Such impertinence as this is intolerable. It is a national insult, In the late canvass Mr. McConnell made | and Mr. Schenek should be instructed to demand an apology. The President set the example of pleasure-bunting away from the post of duty, and he should protect his subordinates from insult from censorious done. The funniest part of the business rather suddenly given up by the American officials. Too bad, wasn't it? An Admiapology for this "indirect" insuit to the THE Shelbyville Commercial favors Hop.

IMPERIAL INSURANCE COMPANY. OF LONDON.

$10,593,327 IN GOLD. The Largest and strongest Fire Insurance Company in the World

Bear in mind that this Company was established in 1803—is now nearly seventy years old, and has passed triumphantly through all the flery ordeals of this period, doing a uniformly successful business, the latest sales of its Stock being at more than seven times its par value. Also, that this is strictly a Fire Ins trance Company, and has no Life or Marine liabilities. The Receipts at the American Branch Office in New York during the single month of October, 1871, more than paid its Chicago losses. Its Soston losses, according to a dispatch just received, cannot exceed One Million Dollars, which is not one-tenth of its assets. The Chicago and Boston fires have clearly demonstrated that the larger the Company the more secure the insured. To those seeking Reliable Indemnity, the IMPERIAL offers unsurpassed security. nov123m dlw&ood bal repair the Confederate Cometery near Murfreesboro, Tenn.

The drawing will take place under the direction of a committee selected by the share-holders and those present at the drawing, in full view of the audience, and will be by blind children from 10 to 15 years of age from two glass wheels, the contents of which can be seen by the audience, one of which will contain the gifts on printed slips in sealed boxes, and the other leather tags with numbers on them corresponding to all the tickets sold. After the contents of both wheels are thoroughly mixed by revolving, the blind child at the first will draw a number therefrom, and then first will draw a number therefrom, and then the child at the second wheel will draw a gift therefrom, and the gift thus drawn will belong to the number drawn immediately before it. Thus this process will continue until 651 gifts are drawn, and it is evident that by this mode of drawing, fraud, favoritism, or a knowledge of what gift any number will draw, is impossible.

All orders for tickets strictly confidential. Cir-draw, is impossible.
